

ALLEGED PLOT
HALTS MADERORebel Leader Postpones Trip to Mexico City

THE EXCITEMENT IS INTENSE

Madero Himself Ascribes Another Reason
Besides the One Generally Credited—Three Insurrecto Chiefs Are Included in the Plot.

El Paso, May 29.—Revelations of an alleged plot to start another revolution in Mexico after overthrowing the leadership of Francisco I. Madero, Jr., and preventing his journey to Mexico City created intense excitement throughout the insurrecto army to-day. That Madero has been advised of certain facts, not generally known, is believed to explain the delay in his departure to the capital to consult with de la Barra concerning pressing governmental problems, although Madero himself declared that he postponed the trip merely to await the installation of the provisional government. The plot is said to include three insurrecto chiefs operating in Coahuila.

POSTMASTER HATCH DEAD.

Well Known Citizen of Chelsea Died Saturday.

Chelsea, May 29.—On Saturday morning this community was greatly saddened to learn of the death of Deacon Willard S. Hatch which occurred during the early hours of the morning. It was generally known that Mr. Hatch, who had been in a decline for several months, had failed more rapidly during the past few days but his death was not expected so soon and it came as a great shock to his immediate family and his multitude of friends. The cause of his death was valvular disease of the heart, caused by rheumatism. Mr. Hatch who was just past sixty-two years old, had always lived in this town where he conducted a grocery and crockery store, and for the past ten years has most efficiently served the public as their postmaster. In politics he was a staunch Republican; he was a member and deacon of the Congregational church and a member and past master of George Washington Lodge, F. & A. M., and was its treasurer at the time of his death. The funeral was held from the Congregational church, this afternoon at three o'clock. Besides his widow, who was Miss Sarah Burgess, he is survived by one son, Edward B. Hatch, who is in the employ of the Vermont Marble company at Proctor, and one daughter, Miss Emma Hatch, who resides at home and is the assistant postmaster. He is also survived by one brother, George E. Hatch, of Milford, N. M., and four sisters, Mrs. E. D. Barnes of this town, Mrs. Sarah Bennett of Springfield, Mass., Miss Ellen Hatch of Boston, and Miss Susie Hatch, who is a teacher in South Africa. The deep sympathy of the entire townspeople is extended to the bereaved families, and in his death the town has lost one of its best citizens and the government a most faithful and competent official.

MEN OCCUPANTS
OF CAR JUMPEDWhen Vehicle Left the Iron and Went Trundling along over the Highway
Yesterday Afternoon.

There was a narrow escape from a serious accident on the electric road yesterday afternoon when car No. 19, which left this city at 12:45, jumped the tracks going at high speed near the Valley View farm and before it could be brought to a stop had run clear across the road and into the ditch. When it stopped the car was turned nearly at right angles to the tracks. There was one woman and about a dozen men on the car. When the car left the iron it ran along on the ties for several feet and then turned to the right and went across the road.

Had the car turned to the left it would have run into the field which, at that point, was about level with the tracks. Most of the men jumped from the car before it stopped. No one was injured except one man who jumped, and he is said to have had a finger split open by getting it caught in the seat of the car.

FIGHTER STABBED
IN RUTLAND ROWBarney Putnam Received Three Stab-Wounds In Trouble Saturday Night.
Three Others Arrested.

Rutland, May 29.—Three men are in jail and one of them is in a serious condition from knife wounds, as the result of a street fight which occurred Saturday night. The participants were Barney Putnam, a mulatto of Castleton, who is in the hospital at the house of correction, Charles Fenton of this city, who has lately been employed as a laborer in Clarendon and concerning whose wife trouble arose between him and Putnam, and Ernest Woods of Castleton, who was sufficiently concerned in the affair to be held by the authorities pending an investigation. The arrests were made by Officer Jesse Young, who collared Putnam and Fenton at the same time. As one man was enough to manage the released Fenton and by a clever ruse induced Fenton and Woods to accompany him to the police station, where all three were locked up. Fenton and Woods expected that when they reached the station the trouble was going to be immediately settled by the chief of police.

Circumstances indicate that the charge against Fenton may be a very serious one, as the negro after he was brought to the police station, was found to have three knife wounds on his body.

Late Saturday evening Officer Young saw Mrs. Fenton go down West street. A minute or two later the officer saw her husband go down West street a short distance behind his wife. Knowing that there had been trouble between the pair, Officer Young followed at a little distance. At the corner of East and Evelyn streets, Mr. and Mrs. Fenton began a conversation. Presently Putnam and Woods, walking west, passed Officer Young and approached Mr. and Mrs. Fenton. The officer saw Putnam go up to Fenton, speak three or four words to him, and then strike him in the face with such force that Fenton fell to the ground. Fenton got to his feet, but Putnam outweighed him by 40 or 50 pounds and the smaller man was quickly thrown to the ground a second time, Putnam on top of him. The officer separated the combatants.

Putnam, Fenton and Woods were taken to the police station immediately and locked up. Putnam complained of a pain in his side and when the party reached the jail he was found to have three knife wounds, one eight inches long across his breast one over his right shoulder blade and one in the right groin.

PROBATION ORDER REVOKED.

Boy With Unfortunate Propensity Goes to Industrial School.

Confessing to numerous petty stealing acts and robberies during the last year, Douglas A. Cruickshank was brought into city court this morning and sent to the industrial school at Vergennes for the remainder of his minority which will be until October 15, 1913. He was arraigned this morning on the charge of violating his probation which has been over him since last July when he was arrested for stealing a quantity of rubber boots, belonging to workmen, in the polishing mills on Batchelder's meadow. He was arrested while on the way to sell the boots to a junk dealer and when arraigned in court pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny and was sentenced to the industrial school for the remainder of his minority. Sentence was suspended and he was placed under probation.

This morning after Cruickshank had made a full confession to entering two houses on Cedar street Saturday afternoon and stealing money and other articles and to other petty thieving, Judge J. W. C. Spear, who presided, ordered and issued a mittimus sending him to the industrial school.

According to the police the boy's career for the past year has been one of continuous thieving and he was becoming braver in his work every day, which fact led to his being caught Saturday.

During the afternoon the boy entered the house of Fred B. Drury on Cedar street where the family was away and is said to have stolen about three dollars in money, a shot gun and some silverware. Immediately after this break the boy went to the house of E. E. Nourse on the same street and though he knew the people well he told Mrs. Nourse, who was the only person at home, that one of the neighbors wanted to speak with her, and while Mrs. Nourse was gone the boy entered the lower part of the house, but so far as could be ascertained, took nothing. When Mrs. Nourse returned a short time later she found drawers pulled open and the things in them scattered about the floor.

The two cases were reported to the police and Saturday evening the Cruickshank boy was arrested and locked up in the police station. The boy was taken to the home of Mr. Nourse for identification and when she said that he was the boy he stoutly denied the charge and stuck to it until this morning when he told a complete story of his acts to the police and to State's Attorney J. Ward Carver.

SERMON BY DR. E. O. THAYER

Members of Crandall Post, G. A. R., Also Sons of Veterans and Woman's Relief Corps Attended—Pre-Memorial
Exercises in the High School.

Members of R. B. Crandall post, No. 56, G. A. R., Major L. A. Abbott camp, No. 14, Sons of Veterans and Col. J. B. Mead circle, No. 1, Ladies of the G. A. R. attended the Hedding Methodist church in a body at the morning services yesterday. The pastor, Rev. E. O. Thayer, delivered a Memorial Sunday sermon that held the close attention of the congregation throughout. The pastor took the text of his discourse from Paul's epistle to the Corinthians, 16 ch. 13-14 vs. "Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong. Let all that ye do be done in love." He said in part:

"The bravest, best and strongest soldiers of all ages have been those who have been able to love their enemies after the smoke and din of the battle had subsided. The purpose of Memorial day is not to stir up bitterness, but rather to reverently remember the bravery and self-sacrifice of the men who last their lives upon the altar of the country's liberties."

Here the pastor paused to read a poem that appeared in the Atlanta Constitution on the occasion of the emancipation of blue and gray veterans in the Georgia city a few years ago. The verses appropriately showed how completely the old differences between the North and the South have been swallowed up since the war.

"The Civil war has not been without its inspiration to the growing generations that have risen since that awful struggle ended. The inspiration to give freely of love and self-sacrifice for the betterment
